

MANY MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE

Governor McCreary Makes Statement of Affairs to Be Handled by Next Legislature Which Must of Necessity Be- come Laws.

"Five big issues will confront the next administration and general assembly for settlement, and, perhaps, cut a large figure in the approaching state campaign," said Governor McCreary. "They are revenue and taxation, public roads, insurance regulation, revision of the educational laws and probably constitutional amendments relative to woman suffrage."

Referring to them categorically, the governor said:

"First—Revenue and taxation. This is bound to be a question of great importance."

"Second—Public roads. The fact that the state increased the state tax five cents on the $100 for the benefit on public roads at the last session of the general assembly provides a large sum of money to be spent in their improvement; and the good roads bill which it is said congress will pass, giving to each state an appropriation for the benefit of road improvement, gives the road question great importance."

"Third—Insurance. It will be remembered that the insurance law passed by the last general assembly was opposed by the insurance companies so strongly that many of them withdrew from the state and refused to do business in Kentucky for a time. A compromise was effected whereby a commission was appointed to prepare a bill for submission to the next general assembly."

"Fourth—Revision of the educational laws. There is a decided demand for such revision."

"Fifth—The outlook indicates that there will be great efforts made to enact laws in regard to state-wide prohibition and woman suffrage."

How to Prevent Bilious Attacks.

"Coming events cast their shadows before." This is especially true of bilious attacks. Your appetite will fail, you will feel dull and languid. If you are subject to bilious attacks take three of Chamberlain's Tablets as soon as these symptoms appear and the attack may be warded off. For sale by all dealers.

Barrowcliff-Sterrett.

The beautiful double ring Episcopal service was used this morning by Rev. H. J. B. Marsh, of the M. E. Church, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barrowcliff, Young street, when their daughter, Miss Della Rose, at 10 o'clock was united in marriage with Baird Sterrett, of New Orleans. Mr. Sterrett was for a time linotype operator in the Tribune office and the bride was educated in Cheboygan.

They are too well known to need introduction to the public. The wedding was witnessed by the members of the Barrowcliff family only, the service being accompanied by soft piano music, "A Perfect Day," played by the bride's close friend, Miss Alice Trombley. The Barrowcliff home was decorated with holiday emblems, holly and mistletoe. The bride wore rose chapeau with a corsage bouquet of rosebuds, white narcissus and ferns. Her going away suit was of black broadcloth. After the ceremony a breakfast was served, the dining room being trimmed in keeping with the season, a basket of primroses centering the table. Mr. and Mrs. Sterrett left on the noon train for Detroit, where they will remain until Wednesday, when they go to Dayton for a brief visit, then later to New Orleans, their future home. Mr. Sterrett being in the employ of the Mergerthaler Linotype company there.

The young couple have the best wishes of a host of admirers in this city. Cheboygan (Michigan) Tribune.

Mr. Sterrett is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sterrett, of Hawesville.

Colds and Croup in Children.

Many people rely upon Chamberlain's Cough Remedy implicitly in cases of colds and croup, and it never disappoints them. Mrs. E. H. Thomas, Logansport, Ind., writes: "I have found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best medicine for colds and croup I have ever used, and never tire of recommending it to my neighbors and friends. I have always given it to my children when suffering from croup, and it has never failed to give them prompt relief." For sale by all dealers.

$30,000 For Farmers.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Thirty thousand dollars of the $2,500,000 appropriated by congress to meet the expenses incident to the foot and mouth epidemic has been expended to reimburse in part those in Kentucky whose live stock was slaughtered as the result of the disease. According to the bureau of animal industry, the appraised value of the cattle, sheep and swine killed in Kentucky during the quarantine amount to $60,000. Under the half-and-half plan of reparation the federal government and the state shared the financial losses of stock owners.

Recognized Advantages.

You will find that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has recognized advantages over most medicines in use for coughs and colds. It does not suppress a cough but loosens and relieves it. It aids expectoration and opens the secretions, which enables the system to throw off a cold. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia. It contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given a child as confidently as to an adult. For sale by all dealers.

THE CHANGING TIDES.

Causes That Contribute to the Rise and Fall of the Ocean.

Many people regard the rise and fall of the ocean as a profound and baffling mystery.

The mystery really is not very hard to understand. As we all know, the surface of the ocean rises and falls twice in every lunar day, this rise appearing along a coast to be a horizontal motion—always ebbing or flowing.

Now, the lunar day consists of about twenty-five hours. Thus, of course, the "time" of the tides varies each day. The tides, moreover, do not always rise to the same height. Every fortnight, with the new and full moon, they rise very much higher than at other times.

These high tides are called "spring" tides, the alternating low tides being termed "neap." When the moon is nearest to the earth the rise and fall of the ocean are markedly increased. Thus the spring tides are greatest at the equinoxes—i. e., at the end of March and the end of September.

Yes, you say, but what has the moon to do with it at all? Surely it is the sun which attracts the earth.

That is so. But, although the sun's attraction on the earth is far greater than the moon's, the moon is so very much nearer to the earth that the difference between its attraction at the center and on the surface is three times as great as the sun's. And it is this difference which causes tides.—London Answers.

40c. and 50c. Eggs.

If your hens would only lay when eggs were high. Why shouldn't they? Some hens do. The hen that lays a healthy pink tongue and gills. Those not laying are pale in the gills, their tongue or palate has a whitish look. What's the matter? What's the matter with you when your tongue is white? Bilious? That's just what ails the hen. Start her liver and see her get busy. B. A. Thomas Poultry Powder is guaranteed to start her liver and to start the eggs. For sale by Wedding's drug store, Cloverport, Ky.

HEAT AND COLD.

What We Don't Know About Temperature Would Fill a Big Book.

The highest honors of the scientific world await exploration in the unknown fields of temperature. Strange as it may seem, we really know very little about temperature. Between the temperature of the surface of the sun, estimated at 6,000 degrees C., and absolute zero, estimated at minus 273 degrees C., very little has ever been discovered. The field of research has been practically restricted to 725 degrees or between the temperature of liquid air (minus 200 degrees) and the first visible red of heated iron (plus 525 degrees). We know that at a temperature of 1,000 degrees C. twenty-nine metals become liquid, at 1,000 degrees gold fuses, tungsten melts at 3,000 degrees, the temperature of the electric arc is 3,720 degrees, and here begins the great unknown in the world of heat.

The hottest thing on earth is the electric furnace, with a temperature of nearly 3,730 degrees. In this intense heat even the diamond can be melted and boiled like water. But this is barely halfway to the temperature of the surface of the sun, and it is thought that research in these higher temperatures will ultimately result in the greatest discoveries of the age.

What these discoveries may be no one can foresee, any more than anyone could have foretold the results of the discovery of radium.—New York World.

DAIRY WISDOM.

Don't allow a cow to skip a milking. The retention of a large quantity of milk in the udder until the next milking period is very injurious.

The cow pays for her board every day if she is the right kind. And the up to date dairyman doesn't care to keep any but the right kind.

In driving cows never hurry them when their udders are full of milk or when they are heavy in calf, for they may be seriously injured.

One of the best remedies for scours is raw eggs administered in considerable numbers. Dried blood or blood meal is effective also in many cases.

Not the least important by any means of the dairyman's duties is the successful raising of heifer calves which are to make the future milk cows.
